NORTH CAL-NEVA

RESOURCE CONSERVATION AND DEVELOPMENT PROJECT

CEDARVILLE, CALIFORNIA 96104

PHONE PROJECT COORDINATOR 279-3761

AREA CODE 916

FROM THE PROJECT CHAIRMAN --

We are pleased to present this sixth annual plan of work for the North Cal-Neva Resource Conservation Development Project. It was approved at our May 25, 1973, executive board meeting in Cedarville following much work and deliberation over several months by the sponsors representatives, resource committee members, and agency people who help.

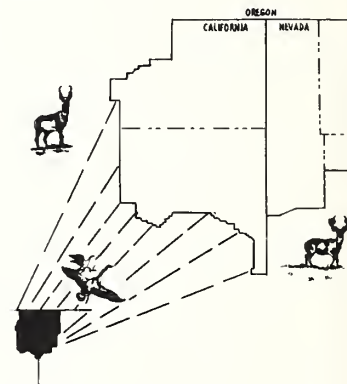

Fiscal year 1974 planning finds us taking a look at our accomplishments, which are many. In the future we expect that federal funding for RC&D measures will be somewhat less and that effort and financial support by local residents and organizations will be more important.

A new dimension has been added to the work of the University of California Agricultural Extension Service by the assignment of Gary Rush in Alturas. He is assisting our project sponsors with community and resource development activities and will be working very closely with our Community Services, Small Business and Industry, and Human Resources Committees.

I want to express my regard for the good leadership Walt Husa has provided the project since 1968. Thank you, Walt, and all the others --agencies, committee members, sponsors, sponsors of RC&D measures, and organizations who have cooperated so generously. We enlist your further support as we move ahead in fiscal 1974.

BROAD GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

The North Cal-Neva sponsors' goals are to improve economic, environmental, and social conditions. Action to reach these goals will be based on thorough understanding of resources and will depend on adequate inventories, including soil surveys and other data, for all lands and resources--natural and human. The sponsors ask for coordination and collaboration of local people and all interested agencies to:

- Develop agriculture with emphasis on desirable land use changes, livestock improvement, better crop and hay land management, and associated processing and marketing industries.
- Prevent damaging floods and develop and efficiently use water resources for all purposes in the project area.
- Plan, develop, and manage public and private ranges for balanced use with emphasis on watershed improvement, livestock grazing, and wildlife habitat to provide the greatest economic, recreational, and aesthetic values.
- Optimize production from commercial forest lands while protecting environmental and aesthetic values and assure maximum processing within the project area.
- Develop an area wide recreation-tourism program to include associated businesses, public and private visitor facilities, beautification through a coordinated program, and location, interpretation, and protection of scenic, natural and historic sites.
- Improve the viability of towns and communities by developing opportunities for clean and attractive job producing small businesses and industries.
- Improve community services including roads, airports, common carriers, power, telephones, water, sewers, and solid waste disposal facilities.
- Improve educational and training programs and facilities; reduce health hazards and improve medical and health care and provide better living conditions through cultural, recreational, and housing improvements.

1973-74 MEETING SCHEDULE

The project sponsors take turns hosting sponsors committee and executive board meetings. The schedule for the coming year is:

Executive Board	July 26, 1973	City of Susanville
Sponsors Committee	September 27, 1973	Gerlach CD
Executive Board	November 27, 1973	Central Modoc RCD
Executive Board	January 24, 1974	Lassen County

All meetings are open with agency representatives and others attending whenever possible. Resource committee chairmen are expected to attend and report at the March and September meetings.

There are eight RESOURCE COMMITTEES -- Agriculture, Community Services, Human Resources, Range-Wildlife, Recreation-Tourism-Beautification, Small Business and Industry, Water Resources, and Woodland. The Chairman of each committee is appointed annually by the executive board. Sponsors committee members are considered members of all resource committees and attend meetings and participate in committee activities whenever possible. The resource committees help to formulate objectives, propose RC&D measures, and act to see that RC&D measures are accomplished through community efforts and agency assistance. Agency representatives attend meetings and participate in resource committee activities.

AGENCIES having interests and authority in the North Cal-Neva area have designated representatives to assist in coordination and providing technical assistance, cost sharing, grants and loans necessary for accomplishing RC&D measures.

RC&D MEASURES are jobs or units of work, supported by the project, that when accomplished go together to fulfill the sponsors objectives. They may be originated by local interest groups, communities, local governments, organizations, or individuals to meet a specific need. These measures are usually sponsored by the originating groups, which take responsibility to see they are accomplished.

SPONSORS COMMITTEE

In fiscal 1974, the sponsors committee will continue to function as an overall coordinating board, and will accept proposals for RC&D measures, establish priorities, develop working procedures, review and update the "Program of Action" and generally direct the program on behalf of the sponsors.
